

Curriculum Vitae

Prof. Dr. Liselotte Højgaard, MD DMSc

Department of Clinical Physiology, Nuclear Medicine & PET, Rigshospitalet, University of Copenhagen

Phone: +45 3545 4215 or +45 3545 1792, Fax: +45 3545 4015

E-mail: lottepet@rh.regionh.dk

Born in Copenhagen 1957, school in Denmark, England and Switzerland, Baccalaureate, Denmark 1975. MD University of Copenhagen 1982, Specialist in Clinical Physiology & Nuclear Medicine 1990. DMSc from University of Copenhagen 1992.

Present position

Head of Department (Klinikchef), Department of Clinical Physiology, Nuclear Medicine & PET, Rigshospitalet, University of Copenhagen from 2000.

Clinical Professor in Medical Technology, University of Copenhagen, Faculty of Health Sciences, from 2006.

Adjunct Professor in Advanced Imaging, DTU, The Technical University of Denmark, from 2009.

Previous positions

Clinical specialist education in gastroenterology, internal medicine, clinical physiology and nuclear medicine, Copenhagen University hospitals from 1982-1995.

Consultant, Dept. of Clinical Physiology and Nuclear Medicine, Hvidovre Hospital, 1995-1998

Consultant, Dept. of Clinical Physiology, Nuclear Medicine & PET, Rigshospitalet 1998-2000.

Research

- >200 research publications in gastroenterology, pathophysiology, nuclear medicine and PET. In total 350 publications, including articles on research policy, methodology, strategy etc.
- International scientific lectures: >100 as invited/key-note speaker. 12 book chapters
- Supervisor 25 PhD, bachelor and master candidates. Evaluator of numerous master, PhD and DMSc thesis in Denmark and internationally
- Member of boards of scientific societies & organizer of symposias and meetings
- President for The Royal Medical Society of Copenhagen, founded 1772, from 2000-2002
- Member of The Academy for Technical Sciences, Denmark
- Member of the European Academy for Cancer Sciences

Science Policy Advice

Member of the Science Advisory Board of the Danish Cancer Foundation 2002-2006. Member of The Danish Council for Research Policy from 2005-2010. Member of AFI, Working group for Research Infrastructure in Denmark 2003-2006.

Research advisor for the British, Dutch, Norwegian, Swedish and Swiss Research Councils and Governments. Chair of the Expert Group on Clinical and Translational Medical Research under ESFRI, The European Strategy Forum on Research Infrastructure, 2002-2006.

Chair of EMRC, The Standing Committee of the European Medical Research Councils at the European Science Foundation, Strasbourg, 2006 -

Member of the Science Advisory Board, IMI, The innovative Medicines Initiative, from 2008

Chair of FP 7 Advisory Board in Medicine to the EC Commissionaire for Research, from 2010.

Member, Conseil d'Administration, INSERM, L'Institut National de la Sante et de la Recherche Medicale, France.

Member of BioVision, The World Life Sciences Forum, France.

University education

Initiator of the University of Copenhagen & DTU Technical University of Denmark education as bioengineer in medicine & technology.

Editorial experience

Editor-in-chief, "The Danish Medical Journal" 1996–2002, Member of The Vancouver Group, The International Committee of Medical Journal Editors 1996-02. Chair 1999-2000.

Administration

Courses in leadership & administration. INSEAD, Fontainebleau, Paris, AWIRA Course 2002.

Consultant for The European Medicinal Agency 1987-1993.

Leader of department with staff 150, budget 60 mio DKK, equipment 350 mio DKK, 100 publications per year.

Member of VL 13, high-level network for top leaders in Denmark.

Awards and Honours

Prize of Honour of Minister Erna Hamilton, Science & Letters, 2000.

Prize of Honour from the Society for Clinical Physiology & Nuclear Medicine, Denmark 2001.

The Medico Prize, Denmark 2004.

The Niels A. Lassen Award, Denmark 2005.

Knighthood (Ridder af Dannebrog) 2007.

The Klein Award, The Medical Society of Copenhagen, 2010.

The Ib Henriksen Research Prize 2011.