

Peter C Gøtzsche
Director of The Nordic Cochrane Centre

Professor Peter C Gøtzsche graduated as a master of science in biology and chemistry in 1974 and as a physician 1984. He is a specialist in internal medicine; worked with clinical trials and regulatory affairs in the drug industry 1975-1983, and at hospitals in Copenhagen 1984-95. He cofounded The Cochrane Collaboration in 1993 and established The Nordic Cochrane Centre the same year. He became professor of Clinical Research Design and Analysis in 2010 at the University of Copenhagen.

Peter has published more than 50 papers in "the big five" (BMJ, Lancet, JAMA, Ann Intern Med and N Engl J Med) and his scientific works have been cited over 5,000 times. He is author of "Rational Diagnosis and Treatment. Evidence-Based Clinical Decision-Making" (2007) and "Mammography Screening: truth, lies and controversy" (2012).

Peter has an interest in statistics and research methodology. He is a member of several groups publishing guidelines for good reporting of research and has co-authored CONSORT for randomised trials (www.consort-statement.org), STROBE for observational studies (www.strobe-statement.org), and PRISMA for systematic reviews and meta-analyses (www.prisma-statement.org). Peter is an editor in the Cochrane Methodology Review Group.
